SEMINAR

Featuring Diamonds Andrew & Claire MACKAY

When they saw this business Andrew was somewhat sceptical and did extensive research, as he was intrigued at the incredible and rare possibility of creating both income and time. Despite having been at the pinnacle of a successful corporate career, Andrew often says, "I lived the sad adage of corporate business and the problem with the rat race was that even if you won, you were still a rat".

Despite being financially comfortable and having a good life, they were absolutely time bankrupt, with no time to savour their children growing up or to pursue their many other interests, particularly Andrew's passion for nature and birding. Having ultimately made the decision to build this business, they were determined to treat it precisely as a business. In the first year they managed to replace Claire's income (for the rest of her life!) and brought her home as a full time mom - a priceless gift to their family. Through daily disciplines and persistence, they have, in a few short years, created financial options that have fundamentally created a retirement infrastructure for them, probably 15 to 20 years ahead of most of their peers.

"The N21 Educational and Support system, its rich culture of values, ethics and building people up to make the most of their lives, and ultimately its extraordinary network of individuals globally, have added immensely to our lives in so many ways beyond just finances. It has been an extraordinary journey so far, and one that fills us with positive expectations for the future."
